

Inventory Selections

In This Issue

As the new year approaches, New England's staff is preparing several new programs and services for its customers.

You'll find one of these services introduced on page 15 of this Inventory Selections. At New England, we're considering adopting the grading terminology now used by the American Numismatic Association. We feel that doing so would make it easier for you to quickly and efficiently scan our coin listings. However, since we're considering this change for your convenience, we'd like to know how you feel. We hope you'll take a moment to study this proposed change and to voice your opinion by using the enclosed reply card.

Of course, we also hope you'll be pleased with this month's inventory list. It includes many fine new purchases from the recent Commonwealth Coin Show held in Maryland. And don't hesitate to take advantage of the two order forms we've included — either to give to a fellow collector, or to use yourself for "afterthought" orders.

But before you explore this month's coin offerings, we'd like to take this opportunity to wish you the best of this holiday season. You've made this year special for us. Not only were we able to serve more collectors than ever before, but we were also honored in being selected to conduct next year's A.N.A. Auction in St. Louis. These facts have made 1978 a landmark year for New England Rare Coin Galleries.

We hope you've enjoyed being with us as much as we've enjoyed serving you.

1814 SM. DATE, BORDERLINE UNC(55). The right side is a bit weakly struck as usual. Very close to mint state. Considered a "sleeper" by many experts. Market Report

by Tim LaPointe

In December, most coin dealers begin winding down their annual business. December 1978 is no exception. Most dealers we know are already clearing up the year's loose ends. Nevertheless, trading remains active.

For example, at the recent Bay State Coin & Stamp Show, held at the Hotel 57 here in Boston, consignors at New England Rare Coin Auctions' A.J. Amato II Sale realized almost $1,000,000. Highlights of that sale include an 1892-S Barber Quarter in Superb BU condition which brought $1,750, and a Canadian 1921 50¢ piece (the king of the Canadian coins) which realized $35,000. At the Commonwealth Coin Show, held this month in New Carrollton, Maryland, dealers alone spent well over $100,000 with us. Solid numismatic activity like this in the "wind down" month of December seems to indicate that 1979 will be a good year.

On the over-all market, gold bullion seems to have stabilized in the mid $190's. It appears most bullion buyers are approaching the market with a wait-and-see attitude. However, the demand for rare gold coins has not abated. A few of the rarer gold coins we've sold here at New England in the last month include a Superb BU 1849 Moffat & Company $5 piece, another Flowing Hair Stella, and nearly a dozen Choice and Gem mint state High-Relief Double Eagles.

Silver remains stable this month at around $5.85 per ounce, but some types of silver coinage have shown impressive gains. For instance, Silver Dollars have once again risen in almost all dates. The 1895 Proof currently seems to be one of the most popular of all dollars. Silver Commemorative Half Dollars, which have been showing steady gains in the past weeks, seem to have slowed down a little. Superb BU quality commemoratives, however, are still hard to find and command premium prices.

The surprise of the month is the movement of Choice Jefferson Nickels. Meanwhile, Buffalo Nickels have remained pretty much the same as last month (although Choice and Proof Buffaloes are still bringing high prices).

Thanks for being with us this year. Until next month, have a Happy Holiday Season!

Profit From Your Insurance Policy

The meaning of cash surrender values

You may have a readily available pool of cash to invest that you're not even aware of. The pool is called a "cash surrender value" — and if you're not using yours, you're not taking advantage of what could be an ideal way of increasing your estate's value.

Cash surrender values (sometimes called "loan values") are essentially monetary amounts attached to life insurance policies. They indicate how much the policy is worth should you decide to borrow against it. Usually, the longer you hold your policy, and the more premiums you've paid, the greater is the amount listed as your policy's cash surrender value.

In fact, this is why many life insurance policyholders prefer not to use the money in their cash surrender values as investment capital. These policyholders have been told that their cash surrender value is like "an extra savings account." Each time they pay a premium, their cash surrender value increases — so the policyholders feel as if they're depositing money in a "bank account." To disturb the account by borrowing this money would be unwise.

Or would it?

As financial planner Venita Van Caspel says in her book, The New Money Dynamics, it's never wise to "'bank' with an insurance company under conditions you would not accept with your bank." The fact of the matter is that most cash surrender values are very poor "bank accounts." Some insurance companies don't even award interest on cash surrender values. And of the companies that do award interest, most award it at an extremely low rate.

Moreover, unlike money in your bank account, the money represented by your cash surrender value does not belong to you. This money actually belongs to the insurance company. Many life insurance policyholders don't realize this. Usually, these are policyholders who haven't studied their policies carefully enough. In checking your own policy, you'll find that there's no provision entitling you to company reserves — which is exactly what cash surrender values are. Cash surrender values, as company reserves, exist to reduce the insurance company's risk as the policyholder ages. Therefore, the only money that really belongs to the policyholder is the policy's death-benefit value.

Would you deposit cash in a real bank if (1) the bank paid you little or no interest and (2) the bank owned your money?

Putting your cash surrender value to work

You can see, then, that the money sitting in your cash surrender value is practically worthless to the policyholder — unless the policyholder takes advantage of his/her right to borrow this money.

Let's look at a simple example. We'll imagine that you're insured for $100,000. Your policy's cash surrender value is currently $10,000. And you know that your insurance company charges 6% on cash surrender value loans. (This is not an unusual rate. Loans against cash surrender values normally cost the policyholder from 4% to 8%.) Let's see what your policy would contribute to your estate in ten years if (1) you decline to invest your cash surrender value and (2) if you take advantage of your right to borrow that sum and place it in a investment yielding, say, 10% per year.

Example I

Your Policy's Total Contribution to Your Estate If You Don't Invest Your Cash Surrender Value

Policy Death Benefit	$100,000
Cash surrender value	10,000
Current value owned by the policyholder	$100,000

Total contributed in 10 years	$100,000
-------------------------------	-----------

Your Policy's Total Contribution to Your Estate If You Do Invest Your Cash Surrender Value

Policy Death Benefit	$100,000
Cash surrender value	10,000
Current value owned by the policyholder	$100,000
Plus:
Cash surrender value borrowed	$10,000
+ 10% appreciation compounded over 10 years	25,937
– 6% per year cost of borrowing ($6,000)	19,937
– the initial $10,000 principle returned to the insurance co.	9,937

Total Contributed in 10 years	$109,937
-------------------------------	-----------

In this example, we see that the option of borrowing your cash surrender value nets you (before capital gains tax) about $9,000 more than the option of doing nothing.* In short, your cash surrender value has worked for you because you made it do so. Sitting back and doing nothing with your cash surrender value will yield just that: nothing.

Cash surrender value loans vs. bank loans

Not only are cash surrender value loans good as a general proposition (i.e. it's better to have your cash surrender value working for you than just sitting in your insurance company's hands), they're also attractive when compared to bank loans. Compared to banks, insurance companies charge very little for loans. While banks usually charge from 10% to 15%, insurance companies normally charge anywhere from 4% to 8%. This can mean extra profits for you if you use cash surrender value loans rather than bank loans for investing.

To illustrate this point, let's say that you've found an investment that pays 15% per year and you want to place $10,000 in it. And, to be conservative, let's use the "maximum" interest charge on a cash surrender value loan and the "minimum" charge on a bank loan.

Example II

Profit from a 15% investment using a 10% bank loan:

Bank loan	=	$10,000
+ 15% appreciation compounded over 10 years	=	40,455
- 10% cost of borrowing ($10,000)	=	30,455
- the initial $10,000 principle returned to the bank	=	20,455

Net profit	$20,455
------------	----------

Profit from a 15% investment using an 8% cash surrender value loan:

Cash surrender value loan	=	$10,000
+ 15% appreciation compounded over 10 years	=	40,455
- 8% cost of borrowing ($8,000)	=	32,455
- the initial $10,000 principle returned to the insurance co.	=	22,455

Net profit	$22,455
------------	----------

Therefore, even in the unlikely event that your insurance company charges a high rate of interest for cash surrender value loans, and your bank charges a low rate for their loans, using a cash surrender value loan would still be like putting an extra $2,000 in your pocket.

A caution

In sum, borrowing your cash surrender value for investment purposes can be a wise move. However, before borrowing, check into one very important detail. Interest rates on cash surrender value loans do vary from one insurance company to the next. The figures used in the previous examples were only averages. Before deciding to borrow your cash surrender value, examine your insurance company's interest rates. Make sure that those rates are substantially less than the growth you expect your investment to yield. There's no sense borrowing your cash surrender value at 6% if your investment won't earn you at least 7%. If you keep this caution in mind, borrowing and investing your life insurance policy's cash surrender value can be an excellent way to increase the value of your estate.

*For purposes of clarity, there is one step we've left out of our example. Each time you borrow money against your insurance policy, your death benefit is reduced by the amount you borrow. Therefore, if you borrow $10,000 against your $100,000 policy, your new death benefit would only be $90,000. However, once you've paid back your loan (which we assume you've done at the end of 10 years in our example), the death benefit would go back up to $100,000. Therefore, the net effect is as if your death benefit remained at $100,000.

Numismatic Forum

Editor's note: Welcome to our second Numismatic Forum. If you'd like your questions on coin collecting or coin history answered, simply write to: Greg Potter, New England Rare Coin Galleries, 89 Devonshire Street, Boston, MA 02109. We'll do our best to give you any numismatic information you need.

I have a type set collection of coins. What is the best way to store them? Would you recommend plastic airtight containers (chemically treated) to avoid tarnish? How safe are the flip top holders that most coins are sent in? — C.P., Tupper Lake, NY

Different numismatists will give you varying opinions on what they consider to be the "best" method of preserving a type set. Our recommendation is that you purchase a plastic Capital Holder from Capital Plastics, Inc. These holders are made of two thick, durable pieces of plastic which, when screwed together, seal out humidity. However, before buying from Capital, we suggest you study their catalog. Some type set holders may not fit in conventional safe deposit boxes. Therefore, you might want to purchase the smaller size holders for individual coins. These usually measure 2" x 2" and are easily placed in any safe deposit box. A copy of Capital's catalog can be had by sending 35¢ to: Capital Plastics, Inc., Box 543, Massillon, Ohio 44646.

Plastic flips also provide good protection for your coins. However, they aren't as effective as Capital Holders. But, if you place these flips in a cool, dry storage area, you should have little to be concerned about. For extra protection, you may want to store some silica gel packets along with the flips. Silica gel will absorb moisture and help keep your coins tarnish-free. Additionally, make sure that your flips are composed of dry, non-greasy plastic — like the flips we use at New England. Such flips can be ordered from: Madison Coin Box, 34 Lincoln Place, Madison, N.J. 07940.

Colonial coin designs shifted from Willow Tree to Oak Tree to Pines pretty rapidly. I've always had a theory about that. These design changes could have symbolized the colonies' growth. Do you have any facts that back me up? — G.R., New York, NY

None, unfortunately. Our sources point to more practical reasons for these design changes. In fact, throughout the entire history of colonial coinage, practicality seems to have been the primary mother of invention.

For example, the first colonial tree design, the Willow Tree, was created for the most practical reason to all: to prevent counterfeiting and clipping. Prior to the Willow Tree, the colonies' only coinage (i.e. the only coinage struck in the colonies for the colonies) had been the New England or "NE" series. The NE design was so simple that counterfeiting and clipping soon became commonplace. The Willow Tree (or Palmetto Tree, as it was then called) series was an attempt to create a more complex coin.

However, the Willow Tree design soon created its own problems. Colonists complained that the Willow looked more like a scrawny bush than a sturdy tree. More important, the Willow Tree series was apparently struck using a sledge hammer (in the tradition of early English coinage). This allowed the planchet to turn while being struck, creating multiple design images.

The Oak Tree series was designed to resolve these problems. Its obverse featured a tree with a strong, sturdy trunk. Moreover, Oak Tree coinage was minted using a screw press. This prevented planchets from turning during the minting process and resulted in clearly defined, single images. Yet, the Oak Tree was also problematic in that it was not an easy design for die engravers to prepare. This probably accounts for the transition to the Pine Tree series. The Pine Tree design was more symmetrical than the Oak. Thus, engravers were finally able to produce coins efficiently and quickly.

Important Message

For All New England Customers.

New England Rare Coin Galleries is always searching for ways to make your coin purchases simpler. Thus, we're currently considering adopting the grading terminology now used by the American Numismatic Association.

This proposed change, if enacted, will in no way affect our strict grading standards — nor will any of our guarantees be nullified. This would be an alteration only in our terminology.

As you can see from the list below, the A.N.A.'s terminology is very simple and straightforward. Should we adopt it, we think that you, our customers, will benefit in two important ways. First, you'll have an easier time identifying the quality of various coins in our inventory list because the A.N.A. terminology is so easy to memorize. (There are only 11 letter classifications in the A.N.A. system while there are over 15 in our present terminology.) Second, since we're certain that the A.N.A.'s terminology will soon be adopted by virtually the entire industry, New England's use of these terms will make it easier for you to compare our high grading standards with the standards of other firms.

After studying the list below, we hope you'll take a moment to fill out the enclosed reply card and let us know whether you approve of our proposed change. Until we complete our survey, we suggest that you keep the following list. Should the reaction to New England's proposed change be favorable, this list will be an invaluable reference.

EARLY QUARTER EAGLES

1802, CH. UNC(60/65). Full blazing mint frost, with a hint of P-L surface on the reverse. Only the characteristic slight weakness of strike in the centers keep us from calling this beautiful coin a gem. Absolutely NO adjustment marks. Breen #4 which is considered by some to be an overdate. (If you follow this particular school of thought, this coin is approximately 3 times rarer than the 1802/1 overdate varieties.) Regardless of this, all early quarter eagles are extremely rare and underrated in choice mint state. This is an excessively rare coin, in exceptional condition. It would grace the very finest collection. . 17,500.00
 1806/4, CH. BU(60/65). Akers writes: "The 1806/4 is almost always weakly struck in the centers of both obverse and reverse, but such weak striking is characteristic of all dates of this type. Strictly mint state examples are exceedingly rare and I have never personally examined one, although a few are reported to exist." This coin is weakly struck in the centers, as all are, but it is still a positively beautiful coin. Beautiful satin-like fields beneath attractive original copper toning. The finest we've seen and surely one of the finest known. 19,500.00
 1807, VF(25). Attractive and very reasonably priced. 1,950.00
 1808, AU(50). Sharply struck and lustrous. A classic rarity. 23,500.00
 1827, CH. BU(60/65). Full strike, semi-P-L. A virtual gem coin and absolutely lovely. Akers writes: "Typically, this date is flatly struck on the head of Liberty, even more so than on the issues of 1824 and 1825. Choice specimens of this date are extremely rare, and are, in experience, less available than for any other date of this type." This specimen is 100% fully struck with full hair detail. Overall, it is by far the finest specimen of the date that we have ever seen. Very possibly it is the finest in existence. A priceless opportunity! 16,000.00
 1831, GEM BU(65). Nearly superb with an absolutely spectacular appearance. This is a vastly underpriced type coin in gem condition. With true gem classic head $2½'s bringing $5000 and up, a capped head $2½ should easily be a $20,000 coin! Certainly an astute purchase at today's price levels. Sliders abound at $5000-$7000, but we doubt that there is another true gem available at any price... 13,500.00

1853-D, CH. BU(60/65). Satin-like surfaces. Mostly well struck with some weak areas. Perhaps lightly cleaned in the past. Very rare in all grades. Akers writes: "Invariably poorly struck at the denticles, although the head of Liberty and the eagle are usually fairly sharp. 1853-D is very rare in all grades and is exceedingly rare in full mint state with no more than three of possibly four pieces existing in that grade." The finest that I have seen was the Gilhousen coin and, except for that piece, I have seen only two other UNCS and perhaps just five or six others that were even AU. Akers writes: "Very scarce as a date and extremely rare in full mint state. Most specimens are weakly struck and the typically available grade is only VF. I have seen a number of AU's and three or four Uncirculated pieces, but the typically available specimen only grades VF or so. Most of the specimens that I have seen are weakly struck, although not as noticeably so as many of the earlier S Mint quarter eagles. A few, however . . . are nearly as sharply struck as their Philadelphia Mint counterparts. This is an underrated and undervalued date, particularly in high grade." CH. BU(60/65). A virtual gem. 1,650.00

1883, GEM BU(65). An exquisite coin and quite rare. Akers writes: "Gem MS-65 or better examples of this date are extremely rare and very few of the UNC pieces that I have seen have been particularly choice." Only 989 minted, and few could match this specimen's quality. Realistically priced at 4,950.00

1886, BORDERLINE UNC(55) P-L. Very scarce. Akers writes: "The business strikes of this date are the most underrated of the 1880's. I have seen fewer choice specimens of this date than I have of any of the others with the possible exception of the 1881. The auction records confirm this as only 22 have been offered in UNC in our 238 catalog survey compared to 30 of the 1884 (another underrated date), 38 of the 188 and so on." Realistic at. 1,450.00

EARLY HALF EAGLES

1795 SM. EAGLE, EF-AU(45). Breen #6-G, R-4. Lustrous and well struck with about 80% of the eagle's breast feathers visible. One very faint hairline scratch is visible on the obverse, and a few tiny edge nicks are mentioned for accuracy's sake. No adjustment marks or any other defects. A lovely coin which would certainly be graded AU or better by most sellers. Always in great demand. Priced realistically. 6,750.00

EARLY EAGLES

1796, CH. BU(60/65). Blazing semi-P-L surfaces. An amazing strike with incredible feather detail on the reverse. No adjustment marks. A couple of tiny edge marks on the reverse, but otherwise GEM quality. Breen writes: "R-5 and fairly high in that level. There are several (possibly 5 to 8) almost undistinguishable prooflike uncirculated specimens in numismatic circulation, together with possibly 30 in the VF to AU range. I can well believe that the total surviving is 60 to 70. This date is much rarer than 1795 though seldom appreciated as such. The difference in popularity is naturally to be attributed to 1795's being the initial year of issue. The prooflike specimens, altogether different in appearance from the more frosty ones, may well have been presentation pieces of some kind on the occasion of Tennessee's admission. True proofs were not struck, so far as I know, as none of these coins appear to have been given the repeated blows from the press to bring up the designs in the usual clarity of proofs." A fantastic coin, worthy of the finest collection. Priced realistically at ... 35,000.00

Our Comprehensive Policies & Services:

1. Guarantees

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from us are graded correctly and will meet our high standards whenever you decide to sell them. Further, we guarantee to purchase these coins at the same grade as they were when sold. If you prefer to sell your collection through auction, New England Rare Coin Auctions will catalog your coins according to the grade at which you purchased them.

Our grading system is patterned after Dr. Sheldon's quantitative scale. Developed to grade Large Cents, his system has been almost universally adopted in recent years. It is now used to describe all denominations and series from Colonials to Pioneer Gold. The numbers used in this system are:

Poor.....	1
Fair.....	2
About Good.....	3
Good.....	4,6
Very Good.....	8,10
Fine.....	12,15
Very Fine.....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine.....	40,45
About Uncirculated.....	50,55
Borderline Uncirculated.....	55/60
Uncirculated.....	60
Choice Uncirculated.....	60/65
Gem Uncirculated.....	65
Superb Uncirculated.....	65/70

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee the authenticity of all coins listed. As proof of our certainty that no counterfeit or altered coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price plus 10% interest per year on any non-authentic coin acquired from NERCG.

☐ Value

Compare our value, selection, grading, and prices with other sellers. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied, return your coins WITHIN 30 DAYS from the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.

☐ You have it in writing

These guarantees are issued in writing with all items purchased, and endorsed by two professional numismatists who review your order. Photographs are available upon request for all coins purchased with a value of $1,000 or more.

2. Expertise

Our staff includes some of the most knowledgeable numismatists in America. We are often sought by government agencies, museums and other coin dealers for advice on authenticity and value. By attending virtually every major coin show and auction, and constantly monitoring dealer teletype circuits, we stay on top of the coin market better than anyone else.

3. Selection

Our multi-million dollar inventory of rare coins is one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive. In addition, our staff examines several million dollars' worth of coins each week to bring our customers the very best values. New purchases are made available for sale as soon as they are cataloged.

4. Want Lists

Our sales personnel will actively seek to locate your Want List items, whether the items come from our extensive inventory or from across the country.

5. Credit Cards

You can use your Master Charge, VISA or American Express cards to purchase rare U.S. coins from New England. Simply fill out the appropriate spaces on your order form.

6. Deferred Payment Plan

Our new Deferred Payment Plan makes financing your rare coin purchases as convenient as possible. The Plan is easy: 25% down payment; 25% each 30 days for a maximum of 90 days; and absolutely no interest charges! $200 is the minimum order allowed under the Plan. If you'd like more information, give us a call.

7. Auction Sales

New England Rare Coin Auctions offers excellent auction services. In fact, we've been selected to host the 1979 ANA Auction. If you have quality coins to sell, our auction sales will bring the best results. And if you're looking to buy high quality coins, bid at a New England Rare Coin auction.

8. Purchasing

Each year the demand for high quality rare coins grows. So each year we purchase more and more rare coins. If you have coins to sell, send a description of them to New England. Our buying prices are the highest in the industry.

9. Toll-free Wats Line

Use our toll-free WATS line (1-800-225-6794) to reserve the coins you wish to order. Should you wish to discuss the sale of your collection, or should you need additional information on any of our services, we'll be happy to assist you.

SUPERB GEM MATTE PROOF. Even greenish gold color, except for a couple of microscopic copper toning spots. The finest matte proof $20 we've ever seen! We can't find ANY imperfection on this coin using a 5x glass. (Although a microscopic would probably show up some mark an amoeba could squeeze into.) If a perfect matte proof St. Gaudens double eagle exists, this is it! A superb 1911 realized $22,000 in the recent ANA auction sale. That coin was really nice, but this one is even better. FIERCE!

That's the kind of bidder
 New England is luring to the 1979 ANA Auction!

And that means a lion's share for the consignor!

Let's face it: the most important factors in a successful auction are the bidders. They've got to be go-getters — able and eager to buy! If they're not, you won't get top dollar for your collection.

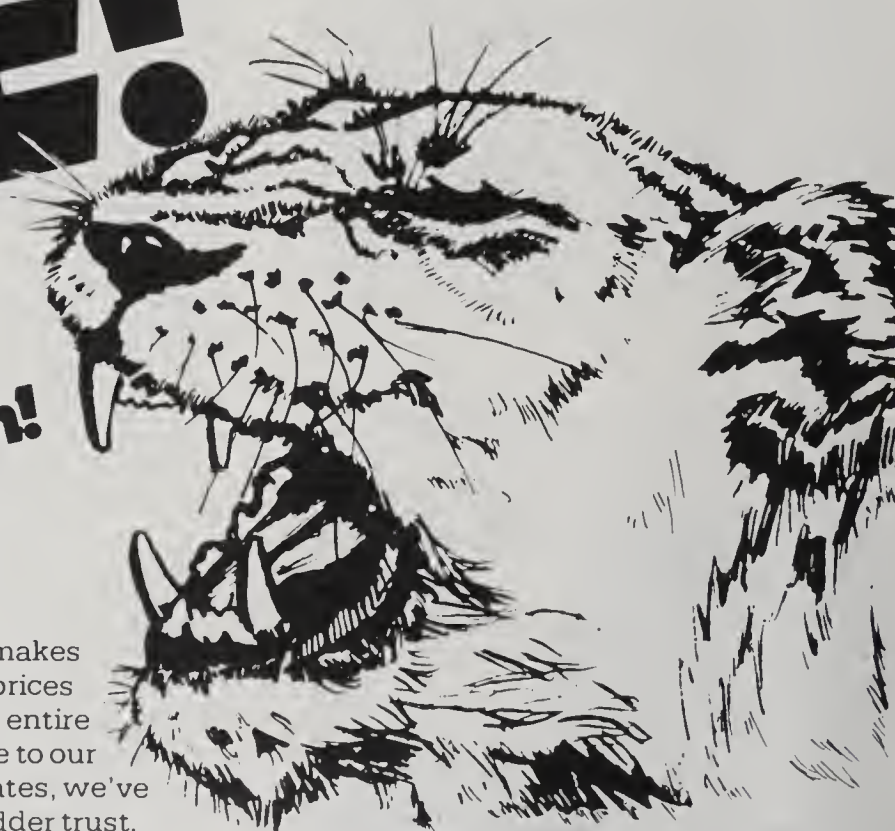

New England snares the top cats!

That's why New England Rare Coin Auctions is luring the most fiercely competitive, economically powerful numismatic bidders to the 1979 ANA. We're out to snare the top cats. And we can do it! Because we're the only company that offers four convenient ways to bid; we're the only company that makes its long-term history of prices realized available to the entire bidding public; and, due to our standard commission rates, we've earned unshakeable bidder trust.

Your hunt is over.

With a combination like New England and the ANA, your hunt for that highly satisfying consigning experience is over — but only if you consign early. We can accept no more than 3,000 lots for this special event. Make sure yours is included. Call New England's president, Lee J. Bellisario, today at 1-800-225-6794, ext. 99. He'll be glad to explain how the 1979 ANA Auction can make your bank-roll roar!
